

PEKING PLAN FOR EMBARGO ON COTTON IS DOUBTED HERE

Legations Would Have To Consent, Belief

FEELERS ARE OUT Japanese Are Much Wrought By Story

Note—The article on the Exchange problem in Sunday's CHINA PRESS was one of the series on commercial topics by Mr. Anshie. It was not a reprint from any bulletin report or journal.

BY DAVID ARAKER (Financial Editor)

A Reuters message from its Peking correspondent in this morning's CHINA PRESS states that "The Cabinet has agreed to the recommendation of the Shuiwachu (Revenue Council) to prohibit the export of cotton." This is a somewhat puzzling bit of news on a topic that is agitating at present hundreds of merchants in Shanghai.

The interpretation that many would be led to place on this declaration coming from a reliable news source is that the Chinese Government has placed an embargo on the exports of Chinese raw cotton.

The question primarily is: Has the Chinese Government any powers to impose this embargo on cotton without consulting the Diplomatic Body? We have not been able to wade through all the details in existence between China and other countries on the most favored nation treatment and other privileges, but from verification in consular circles we have been convinced that action of such a nature on the part of the Chinese Government has to receive the imprimatur of the Diplomatic Body at Peking. The latest news received from some of the important Legations there serves to show that such approval had not been accorded.

There is also the fact that the Chinese Maritime Customs in Shanghai, which should be the first to be apprised of such a measure, has received no instructions to prohibit exports of cotton from here—the most important exporting port in China.

FEELERS PUT OUT

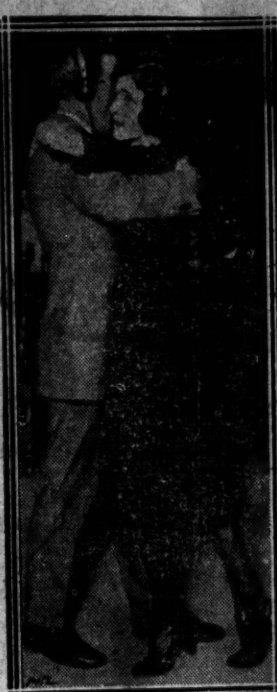

We are inclined to the belief that the Diplomatic Body's assent is imperative, and in this are supported by the fact that the Japanese Consulate received a telegram yesterday from the Japanese Minister at Peking mentioning that the Chinese Government had approached the Diplomatic Corps with a view to the placing of an embargo on cotton exports from China. The telegram added that the Japanese Minister had not given a reply and was considering the matter and would communicate with the Foreign Office in Tokyo.

This is the earliest intimation that we have had of the question being submitted to the diplomats at Peking, and it is expected that within a day or two the American Consulate in Shanghai will also be apprised of the movement of the Chinese Government as the American Legation has promised to keep the Consulate here fully posted. In fact, the American Consulate, when the petition from the Chinese Cotton Millowners' Association went to Peking, inquired of the American Minister, who promised to advise when the Government approached the Body.

We are almost certain that the Diplomatic Body would never agree to this embargo, presuming they are to be consulted. And if they are to be consulted, it is extremely unlikely that within the short space of time that has elapsed since the petition went to the Peking Government that assent had been granted. The strongest opponent to such an embargo is Japan, and it is probable that the United States and Great Britain—not to mention the other countries—would object.

It might be argued that the right to place embargoes is invested in the Chinese Government without a reference to the Diplomatic Body at all. This is only in certain articles, namely rice and one or two more. In the case of rice, as we know, the Chinese Government have very

Moscow Trust To Seek East Outlets

Vladivostok, Feb. 3.—The branch of the Far Eastern Bank in Habarovsk has summoned a conference of experts who are now working out a plan for the shipping of goods on "sailing vessels from Harbin via the Sungari River to Habarovsk, and from there to Eggerscheldt (Vladivostok) and Nikolaevsk on the Amur."

A representative of the Moscow Combined Trust, known as Kust, which is a combination of various textile, paper and hardware factories, is coming to the Far East to organize the shipment of these manufactured goods from Russia to Mongolia and the Far East by making reductions in railroad tariffs.

M. Karklin, who is now in supreme charge of the financial department in Eastern Siberia, has arrived in Vladivostok from Chita.

The Ussuri Railroad has taken over 700 yards of the track of the Amur Railroad from Habarovsk to "Amur Svobodny" (formerly called Alexievsk). The Vladivostok-Chita expresses are now running regularly. The trip takes six days.

Anderson And Tehaney Sing; Palmer Plays Violin Tonight

Radio Program Tonight

Tonight's program to be broadcasted from the roof of the Dollar building, 3 Canton Road, begins at 8 o'clock with a few "tuning in" phonograph selections, and the following special numbers:

Tenor solo by Mr. Warren Tehaney, the tenor with the Golden Gate Quartette at the New Carlton.

"When The Bells Of The Lighthouse Ring 'Ding, Dong,'" bass solo by Mr. Med. Anderson, of the Golden Gate singers at the Carlton.

Tenor solo by Mr. Tehaney. Bass solo, "I'm Always Chasing Rainbows," by Mr. Anderson.

Mr. Tehaney and Mr. Anderson will be accompanied by Mr. Ray Lenzon, pianist at the Carlton, and one of the favorites of Shanghai radio audiences.

Two violin solos by Mr. P. Palmer, the violinist with the Del Monte orchestra, accompanied by Mr. P. Martinez, pianist and leader of the Del Monte musicians.

Two extremely interesting and excellently received concerts were broadcast from THE CHINA PRESS-Radio Corporation of China radio station on the roof of the Dollar building on Canton Road over the week-end, and another splendid concert is billed for tonight.

On Sunday night a complete, although somewhat concentrated church service was sent over the ether waves through the courtesy of the Union Church of Shanghai. The Rev. A. N. Rowland, pastor of the Union Church, preached a sermon on the text, "Christ And The Lord's Prayer," the double quartette from the church sang two hymns, and Mrs. Barham and Mr. W. T. Fulstow, soloists at the church, sang two familiar, but never old, sacred solos.

The Rev. Rowland's fifteen minute sermon was perfectly received throughout the city, again demonstrating the untold possibilities of the radiophone in missionary enterprise in the vast hinterlands of China, and the choir numbers and solos were clearly and distinctly carried to amateur receiving sets scattered about Shanghai. Reports of the success of "listeners" in were requested at the time and every report was the same—clear, just loud enough, and perfect modulation.

After phonograph selections to allow amateurs to tune in had been played, and the latest news bulletins—especially interested on a Sunday evening—had been read Mrs. Barham opened the services by singing, "Lead Kindly Light." The church's double quartette then sang a hymn, "The King of Love My Shepherd Is." Following the Rev. Rowland's sermon Mr. W. T. Fulstow sang "The Lost Chord," and the double quartette sang another hymn, "Sun of My Soul."

LAST NIGHT

Last night the American School furnished an excellent musical program in addition to the CHINA PRESS news bulletins. The musical numbers included two songs by the Boys Glee Club of the school, two violin solos by Miss Louise Macklin, and a vocal solo by Miss Bernice Austin, vocal instructor at the school. The Rev. C. E. Spence, Sub-Dean of Holy Trinity Cathedral, was unable to appear to sing his two announced solos and will sing at another concert in the near future.

Miss Austin, who possesses an unusually clear and beautiful voice for radio purposes, sang "Sweet, Sweet Lady," the beautiful song poem by Frank L. Stanton, favorite writer of thousands

FRANKLIN IS NEW HEAD OF LEGION POST; MEETING HELD

Succeeds Capt. W. I. Elser As Commander Here

TO HELP SCOUTS

Chinese Boys To Keep Ward's Grave In Repair

Judge C. S. Franklin of the law firm of Williams, Franklin and Paison, and a Major in the American army during the war, was elected Commander of the American Legion post of the American Legion at the annual meeting of the post in the United States Court rooms yesterday afternoon.

Judge Franklin succeeds Captain W. I. Elser as Commander of the Shanghai branch of the American ex-soldier's organization. Other officers elected for the ensuing year were as follows: Vice-Commander, Major G. Crane; Adjutant, Mr. J. T. Wright; Treasurer, Mr. George Bourne; Service Officer, Mr. Gus Tolson, and Sergeant-at-Arms, Deputy United States Marshal William Van Buskirk.

Among the resolutions passed was one amending the bye-laws so that all past commanders of the post become members of the executive committee, automatically making Captain Elser and Major Arthur Bassett members.

One of the annual meeting's most interesting events was the appropriation of a sum to outfit and keep up a troop of Chinese Boy Scouts at Sunghang which will take the name of the "Frederick Ward Troop" and will follow after the upkeep of the tomb of General Frederick Ward, the American soldier who died of wounds received fighting the rebels, and after whom the post is named.

The establishment of the troop of Scouts is an outgrowth of the pilgrimage the members of the post paid to the burial place of the American hero last Summer. The Boy Scouts of Sunghang, under missionary leadership, put on an exhibition for the entertainment of the visiting Legionnaires which so impressed them that yesterday's action was carried by a unanimous vote.

The post also passed a resolution making the Commanding officer of the American company of the Shanghai Volunteer Corps an honorary member of the post and Legion during his incumbency. Captain V. Olsen becomes the present honorary member. A resolution pledging close co-operation with other veterans associations in Shanghai was also carried unanimously. Sixty of the post's membership of 78 were present at the meeting.

THREE CHARGED IN SHANSE ROAD MURDER CASE

Police Seek Principal And Autopsy Is Ordered

The three Chinese arrested in connection with the murder last Saturday at 4a Shanse Road of one Lieu Li-dang, found beaten to death, were remanded in custody for 2 weeks by Assessor Blackburn and Magistrate Kwan of the Mixed Court yesterday. The police are seeking a man named Wong Sung, who was the principal in the case, and an autopsy has been ordered.

Detective Sub-Inspector Yorke told the Court that the victim was found in an upper room at the Shanse Road address, which was used as a small Chinese club. These were bruises about the head and back. Investigation showed that the man Wong had called and demanded repayment of $5 which was owing to him, after which there was a quarrel. Wong is alleged to have gone out and to have returned with three or four others, who set upon the deceased. There was no direct evidence against the three men charged, the police witness said, but all were present when the assault took place.

The inquest, in the case was adjourned yesterday pending an autopsy.

PAWNBROKER OUT $1,000 FOR TAKING STOLEN DIAMOND

The Chinese pawnbroker who received the big diamond stolen from the Central Bazaar, 327 Nanking Road, some days ago, is out $1,000 on the transaction by reason of a ruling handed down by Assessor Blackburn and Magistrate Kwan at the Mixed Court yesterday.

The stone, weighing 6.33 kts. and valued at $3,800, was stolen by a young, well-dressed Chinese who dashed out of the store after making a pretense of purchase and obtaining the gem for examination. He pawned it for $1,000 and it was later recovered by the police. The complainant advanced $600 to redeem the stone and this the Court ordered returned by the pawnbroker.

Mr. J. Em. Lemiere, appearing for the pawnbroker, contended that the weight of the diamond as given by the bazaar proprietor did not agree with the weight announced by the police for the stone recovered, the latter being 6 kts. The Court held, however, that the identification had been sufficient and ruled that the pawnbroker would have to stand the loss because it was his duty to have made preliminary inquiries before receiving so valuable a stone.

Peking Plan Doubled Here

frequently placed embargoes on the exports of the cereal, and this is provided under the Treaties. All that the Peking Government has to do is to give some three weeks' notice to that effect to enable those who had already bought cargo to ship them within that space of time. As regards cotton, this has never been known to have been done.

Under the circumstance it does seem puzzling to know what really has happened at Peking. In the ordinary course, if the Diplomats at Peking had been consulted, a much longer period than a single month would elapse before any definite decision could be submitted to the Peking Government. The Ministers would have to communicate with their Government and as we all know the wheels of government departments grind very slowly.

OUR BELIEF

We cannot believe that any embargo is to be placed immediately. What is really meant to be conveyed in that message—and if this interpretation is correct we wish Reuter would be more explicit in its treatment of news that means hundreds and thousands of tons to merchants in Shanghai and may cause immense loss to them—is that the Peking Government is sympathetic about the suggestion of the raising of an embargo, but the question whether that sympathy can be translated into real action is quite a different pair of horses.

That the Japanese Government is certain to withhold its assent was indicated in a number of letters that the Japanese Commercial Attache at Shanghai wrote to the Chinese Press on the subject since the attitude of the Chinese Millowners Association went to Peking.

THE CHINESE CASE

The crux of the Chinese Millowners' petition of December 21 last was that a great deal of the cotton, grown in the country, was being and had been diverted this season to countries abroad, and that if this were not checked immediately it would inflict great hardship on the numerous cotton mills in China and throw out of employment a large number of operatives. There are some 2,462,728 active spindles, including Chinese, British and Japanese and these, it was pointed out, would suffer very acutely should further supplies be permitted to leave the country.

Since the announcement of the fact that the Peking Government was in receipt of a petition from the Chinese cotton millowners, the Japanese Cotton Millowners Association submitted a request to their government, to protest vehemently against any prohibition of cotton, from China so the raw material is employed largely by the Japanese and an embargo would have a ruinous effect upon Japanese industries.

The Japanese millowners very rightly contended that any such measure, if introduced, would deprive the Chinese farmer in the cotton producing districts of very necessary profits.

In the next article we propose to deal with the question in a broader light.

Here's Inside Story Of How Del Monte Gets Good Dancers

Al Israel, proprietor of the Del Monte Cafe, is a great admirer of Comrade Trotsky, over in Moscow. "In fact," said Al, "I admire that bird so much that it will be perfectly all right with me if you address me as 'Comrade.'"

To get at the genesis of this unique preference on Al's part you have to turn back through a few recent pages in Russian history; to the day that Comrades Trotsky and Lenin kicked over the imperial bean pot in St. Petersburg, thus spilling the imperial beans all over that section of the map. It seems that Comrade Trotsky, shortly after this historic event, was walking down the Nevsky Prospect one day when his eye fell upon a bill board announcing a few songs and dances at the imperial theater by the imperial dancers. It was an old poster, streaked with the rust of many rains and snows, but that made no difference to Trotsky. Anything that savored of imperialism caused the Trotskyian whippers to curl and quiver and vibrate with rage, and while the whippers wore thus quivering he summoned the People's Army and gave orders that all imperial dancers should be called in and their legs chopped off.

Dancers, however, whether imperial or otherwise, have a peculiar aversion to having their legs chopped off, seeing that their legs, paradoxical as it may seem, are also their bread and butter. Consequently from that day to this there has been a feverish exodus of imperial dancers from Russia.

This, no things turned out, has been the source of a continuous supply of great Comrade Israel's mill, for no sooner did the exodus begin than Al sent his scouts up to Harbin and other border towns to offer a haven of refuge to all imperial dancers who came scrambling over the border, bent on saving their legs.

Hence the never ending supply of imperial dancers that Comrade Israel supplies for his delighted patrons at the Del Monte.

"Speaking of dancers," said Al, who is a good business man and always on the lookout for a little publicity, "the one I have now is positively the best artist I ever brought to Shanghai, and the knock kneed world will tell you I have had some good ones."

This girl, Vera Koltzov her name is, excels in classical and oriental dances, but no hootchie kootchie stuff. She has wonderful costumes, and easy to look at. Boy, I'll say she is, she is—but you tell 'em. If I tell 'em they'll say I'm a prejudiced witness."

Very well, if you think Al is spoiling you may take it from us that, speaking of dancers, the one he has now is positively the best artist he ever brought to Shanghai, and the knock kneed world will tell you he has had some good ones. This girl, Vera Koltzov her name is, specializes in classical and Oriental dances, but no hootchie kootchie stuff. She has wonderful costumes, and easy to look at! Boy, I'll say she is!

That's tellin' 'em, hey Al?

DISCHARGE COOLIE FOUND CARRYING MANY CARTRIDGES

1,285 Rounds Discovered in Bag Of Rice

Charged with importing 1,285 rounds of German .22 calibre ammunition for purposes of sale, a coolie arrested at the China Merchants' Lower Wharf on Sunday was brought before the Mixed Court yesterday and was discharged after it had been shown that he was evidently innocent of intent.

Testimony was given to the effect that the accused was stopped while bearing a gunny bag off the wharf, the sack or investigation being found to contain a quantity of rice in which were 51 packets of cartridges. The accused stated that he had been engaged by a man from a German ship to carry the bag off the dock. He knew nothing more about the matter. He said that another coolie also had been engaged to carry a bag and that this coolie got successfully off the wharf.

The ammunition was ordered confiscated. Mr. Franklin and Mr. Rodger appeared for the defense.

Customs Receipts Show Good Gain

Tientsin, Feb. 10.—The Customs Administration here reports that the revenue collected during the present lunar year amounts to approximately $6,000,000, exceeding last year's receipts by fifty percent. The increase, the Administration points out, is due to the Peking-Chihai war in the Spring of 1922, when the merchants generally preferred marine transportation of their goods to land transportation which was perilous on account of the war.

Lu Yung-Hsiang Favors Military Rehabilitation And Self-Rule In Fukien

Chekiang Director Of Military Affairs Says People Can No Longer Bear Burden Of Militarism; Opposes Entry Of Sung Chuan-fang

(China Press Correspondence)

Hangchow, Feb. 12.—The subject of the disturbance in Fukien formed the topic of an interesting interview yesterday by your correspondent and General Lu Yung-hsiang, director of military affairs in Chekiang, whose view on the Fukien situation as well as the political position of the Yangtze provinces were discussed.

Questioned whether the departure of the Constitutional Army under General Hsu Chuan-ling would hasten the day of settlement of the Fukien situation or not, General Lu said:

"Our province of Chekiang is a close neighbor of Fukien and the preservation of peace and order in Fukien is essential to the welfare of this province. The Fukien populace is now actively working for self-government, which is one of the most hopeful signs of the province.

"However, Fukien is overrun with troops, whose organizations are more or less complicated. So the first step to be taken to improve the conditions must be military rehabilitation before efforts are made in self-government."

Here the General entered into a mode of pensiveness and a pause ensued. Your correspondent again asked whether it was the wish of the Fukien people to submit to the order of the Central Government in despatching General Sung Chuan-fang and his forces to Fukien. To this the General said:

"Fukien has already suffered considerable oppression from militarism. If Sung is added to the list of militarists, it is certain that the people would be opposed to him. Taking into consideration the size of Fukien, the province is unable to maintain an army any larger than two divisions on account of the limited financial capacity. Already, it will be quite difficult to rehabilitate the military affairs of the province; if Sung's forces are allowed to enter Fukien, the people can no longer bear the burden of taxation and deprivation."

Furthermore, for the personal interest of Sung, it will not be advisable for him to go to Fukien at present in view of the strenuous opposition of the people against his troops."

The director radiated a broad smile when asked whether or not he had previously expressed his views on the Fukien situation. Here your correspondent recalled the many reports that had appeared in the Chinese press for the last month purporting to have come out of this city. The Sun Wan Pao has reported that Tsuchun Chi of Kiangsu has telegraphed to General Lu, inviting the latter to join in the mediation of the Canton squabble. It further reported that General Chi, in account of the general political chaos, has repeatedly communicated with Chekiang, Hupeh, Anhui and Kiangsi authorities to formulate plans for the joint defense of the Yangtze Provinces. Reports were also published on the alleged exchange of telegrams between Chi and Lu on the question of national unification and the Fukien situation, including the questions of the appointment of the Tull and stationing of certain troops in the province.

In reply, Director Lu said that there was no serious question confronting the Yangtze Provinces and he did not know what views Tsuchun Chi held on the Fukien situation. For the last month, he added, he had not entertained any agent from the Kiangsu Tsuchun and he denied the report that Chi had sent his aide, Colonel Wu, to negotiate with him on various matters.

General Lu as a rule says very little regarding his views on political questions. This interview is regarded by his friends as one of the longest he ever granted a correspondent.

Irish Irregulars Continue Defiant

(Reuters Service)

Dublin, Feb. 10.—"The war will go on until the country's independence is recognised by its enemies, foreign and domestic," declares a proclamation by Liam Lynch, the Irregular Chief of Staff, addressed to the Republican Forces.

The proclamation says that there can be no compromise on this fundamental condition and appeals to the men not to be deluded into surrendering a strong position so dearly won. Liam Lynch says victory is within their grasp if they stand unitedly and firmly. He urges a vigorous continuance of activities.

Three armed men practically simultaneously with the proclamation blew up by land-mines the printing works in Dublin from which the new amnesty offer yesterday emerged. The damage done is estimated at thousands of pounds.

of sons and daughters of the Old South. Miss Austin played her own accompaniment.

Miss Macklin's two violin solos were Clarence Cameron White's "Cradle Song," and Monsigny's "Rigaudon." Miss Macklin's playing transmitted perfectly and when several listeners in paid their usual complimentary call after the concert her numbers were particularly named.

BOY SINGERS GOOD

The Boys' Glee of the school, directed by Miss Bernice Austin, sang "The Cossack," and "Deep River." The numbers were sent through the air in great fashion and were extremely interesting to all who listened in, and especially to a large number of American School boys who are the owners of receiving sets.

Miss Dorothy Birney played the accompaniment for both songs. The Boys' Glee Club, which plays an important role in the opera "Pocahontas," to be produced by the school in April, is composed of Harold Brewster, Aubrey Du Bois, James Ford, Alfred Rawlinson, Griffith McQuinn, Paul McGuinness, Harold Griffin, Elliott Fisher, Rodd Moffett, Alex Moffett, Maxey Smith, Mr. P. Palmer, violinist with William Woods, John Pilley, Morris Ester, John Lockwood, Eugene Parker, Paul Harvey, Arthur Grafton and James Hulsinger.

TONIGHT'S TREAT

The wireless program tonight will consist of a number of excellent musical numbers as well as late news bulletins and the ever-popular phonograph selections.

Two stars with the Golden Gate Quartette, who are growing in popularity with Carlton fans each night, will furnish the vocal end of the program. Mr. Med. Anderson, the man with the deep, deep bass, will sing two solos, "When The Bells Of The Light-house Ring 'Ding, Dong,'" and "I'm Always Chasing Rainbows," and Mr. Warren Tehaney, the quartette's tenor, will sing two of his most popular tenor solos.

Both Mr. Anderson and Mr. Tehaney have scored personal successes for their solo work at the New Carlton as well as participating in the general "okeh" tacked on the Quartette, and both are expected to prove hits.

Mr. Ray Lenzen, whose smiling face lights up the horizon of the Carlton orchestra each night, and who plays the piano as few in Shanghai can for radio transmission will accompany both Mr. Anderson and Mr. Tehaney.

Mr. P. Palmer, violinist with the Del Monte Orchestra, will play two violin solos accompanied by Mr. F. Martinez, pianist and leader of the Del Monte jazz bands, for tonight's instrumental numbers.

Mr. Palmer made a decided "hit" when he played for the radio for the first time, and in tonight's numbers he is expected to give radio fans here another rare treat. Mr. Martinez, who wields the baton with the Del Monte Orchestra, will accompany Mr. Palmer in both numbers.

ANIMALS WE DRINK

The above are magnifications of germs found in drinking water. They may be dead if you drink boiled water but even then it would be no pleasant feeling if you knew about it.

There are people who say that they use water but brushing one's teeth requires water and you can not always rely on your boy's statement that the water he brings was properly boiled. For drinking purposes boiled water is not palatable, while distilled water taken regularly has been declared unhealthy by prominent medical men.

WHY NOT ELIMINATE THE RISK OF GETTING DISEASE GERMS INTO THE SYSTEM BY USING A GENUINE

BERKEFELD FILTER

THE IMPORTANT PART OF THE FILTER IS THE CYLINDER OR CANDLE AS IT IS CALLED IN SHANGHAI. IN THE GENUINE BERKEFELD FILTERS THIS CYLINDER IS MADE OF INFUSORIAL EARTH.

The water passes through the walls from outside to the inside leaving all impurities on the external surface. The impurities gradually produce a slimy coating on the outside of the cylinder and thus reduce the output of the filter. All that is required, to restore the original filtering capacity is to carefully brush the surface of the cylinder while holding it under a tap. To secure a perfectly sterile filtrate periodical sterilising of the cylinder is required. Complete sterilization can be obtained by placing the cylinder, after being cleansed by brushing, in a clean vessel with cold or tepid water and then boiling it for an hour.

EVERY KITCHEN AND PANTRY SHOULD CONTAIN AS PART OF ITS STANDARD EQUIPMENT A BERKEFELD FILTER, AND SO SHOULD EVERY HOUSE AND SAILING BOAT.

The advantages claimed for Berkefeld Filters are:

- 1.—They are simple in construction and can be easily cleaned and sterilised.
- 2.—They give a filtrate free from any suspended matter and from germs, provided proper attention be paid to regular cleansing and sterilising.
- 3.—They give an output of sterile filtrate from five to ten times larger than other germ-proof filters.

CHINESE COUPLE'S DOUBLE SUICIDE HAS QUEER ANGLE

Man And Woman Found
Poisoned In Different
Lodging Houses

A double suicide with several mysterious angles came to police attention Saturday when a man and a woman who had evidently poisoned themselves were found in two separate lodging houses.

The man in the case was one Ting Ling-sung, 28 years of age, and the woman, Zung Yip-sz, was the wife of a Shanghai Chinese who had disappeared from her husband's home on January 8. The two went to a lodging house at 654 Fokien Road at about 6 p.m. last Friday and engaged a room. Shortly thereafter the woman left and at about 9 o'clock she was found unconscious in another lodging house at 298 Foochow Road, an empty trial bottle beside her. She was removed to Shantung Road Hospital and died Sunday afternoon.

The man meanwhile had ordered dinner and nothing further was heard of him until next day when in the afternoon one of the lodging house coolies tried ineffectually to enter the room. After waiting some hours longer, the lodging house people forced in the door and found Ting dead. A paper in which a bottle of trial had been wrapped was found in the room, as were also several letters indicating that the double suicide was intended.

KEROSENE DEAL BASIS OF ACTION IN MIXED COURT

Suit involving an uncompleted deal for 20,000 cases of kerosene was begun in the Mixed Court yesterday by Wong Ping-tsang, of Mukden, against Hu Tse-sung, formerly of the China Produce Commercial Company, the former seeking recovery of deposit money and expenses. The case is being heard by Assessor Allman and Magistrate Yui. Mr. N. E. Lurton represents the plaintiff and Mr. L. K. Kentwell the defendant.

The plaintiff alleges that the defendant entered into negotiations in Mukden on behalf of the company to supply the kerosene and that a contract was eventually signed. Plaintiff later came to Shanghai and made a deposit of $5,000 in the Far Eastern Bank, he said, and understood it was to stand in his own name. He completed storage arrangements in Tientsin and wrote several times pressing for delivery. As the kerosene never arrived witness came to Shanghai, where Hu informed him that a typhoon had delayed the cargo. He then asked for a refund of the $5,000 and Hu replied that the money was in the hands of the foreigners. After visiting the bank and finding the deposit had been withdrawn, witness said, he consulted Mr. Haskell, who rang up the company and it was ascertained that Mr. Boyes had sold the business to Mr. Loverdos, who in turn had sold it to Mr. Diment. The latter said he would settle everything and handed in several promissory notes and a payment of $800 on account. He did not consider that this released the others.

Mr. Haskell, who was examined at length, said it was decided to settle the affairs to the satisfaction of all. Mr. Diment agreeing to pay in installments as he had taken the company over from Messrs. Boyes and Loverdos. He understood by implication that the plaintiff had released the others.

The case was adjourned.

The robber lunged at the watchman as he came to the rescue and inflicted a wound on the right cheek from which he died a short time afterward. None of the four men believed to have been in the robber band were arrested.

THEOSOPHICAL SOCIETY

Saturday evening Professor H. P. Shastri lectured before the Shanghai Lodge of the Theosophical Society on "The Western Asian Traditions of Theosophy." The lecturer demonstrated the fact that Theosophy, which was concerned with the unfoldment of the human spirit, had existed for ages, under different names, in Persia, India and adjacent countries. It had carried a direct appeal to the peoples of those regions, and the sages who taught it were held in reverence and did not meet with the violent end of the martyrs of various creeds. The present generation, in India welcomed the introduction by the Theosophical Society of the ancient truths in a new guise, and in return many Sanskrit scholars have translated ancient books of priceless value into English for the enrichment of Western knowledge.

AUSTRALIA TO WELCOME CHINA TEAM

Cable Tells Of Plan To Entertain Touring Soccer Men
NAME SIDE SOON
Millard And Cubitt To Select Players After New Year

Marked interest and a great enthusiasm is being manifested by the sports authorities of China in the proposed tour of a Chinese Association Football team throughout Australia and New Zealand, commencing in May.

Mr. H. A. Millard, the Australian delegate at present at the Hotel Parisien, yesterday received cable advice from the Australian Government through Mr. Little, the Australian Trade Commissioner, that arrangements were complete and the necessary sanction given to enable the team to land and tour throughout Australia.

Mr. Little is in touch with the Chinese Government on the matter, assuring them officially that there will be no hitch in the matter of landing, etc.

Mr. Millard is now awaiting cable instructions from the Football Associations in Australia. He states there is no doubt that his suggestion to tour them as soccer players instead of rugby as first intended will be given effect to. Immediately after Chinese New Year Mr. Millard will make the necessary arrangements with the authorities to select the most formidable team. It is intended to play a series of matches, possible vs. probable, with a view to selecting the best material available. When the team is eventually chosen they will be pitted against other teams for the purpose of gaining combination. A very formidable side should be obtained as a result of these efforts.

Mr. Millard intends to appoint a member of the team to act with him and Mr. Cubitt in the managing of the side throughout the tour. Everything will be done for the comfort of the team. In the course of a letter from the Chinese Consul of New Zealand, introducing Mr. Millard to a prominent Chinese in Hongkong the Consul states:

"The Chinese in these parts are very enthusiastic about the proposed visit and the project meets with the unanimous approval of the sporting public here."

Both European and Chinese bodies are arranging receptions to the team on their arrival at the respective places which they will visit under the jurisdiction of the Football Associations in New Zealand and Australia.

Footballers in China are given a novel opportunity to avail themselves of the pleasures of a most enjoyable tour as establishing for China a place on the sporting map of the world. Every assistance should be given the delegation to secure the best material, as the doings of the team will be chronicled in the press of the whole sporting world. The value of this as an advertisement to China is unquestionable and interest in the scheme should not be permitted to lag.

FIELD STABLE LOOKS BEST FOR DERBY

Morris Has Abbeyfield And Glenfield For Meeting At Kiangwan

ZEBRA IS GOOD

Golden Chrysanthemum Is Also Favorite For Classic Event

Henry Morris' ponies, with The Zebra and Golden Chrysanthemum from other stables, look to be the best of the entrants for the Derby to be run at the Kiangwan China New Year meeting. Sunday's gallops give a good line on the possibilities for several races and the railbirds were busy Sunday and yesterday figuring out how to pay their money. Several of the gallops Sunday were very good.

Symphony did a good gallop of 1 1/2 mile in 3.23 and finished his last 1/2 mile in 1.05 seconds. The whole time seems good but the final quarters are not so satisfactory. Opinion is therefore expressed that the pony cannot stay such a long distance and that his best distance is about a mile.

Mr. Henry Morris' ponies are going slowly and comfortably in the inside course having evidently felt satisfied with the good gallops done on Thursday last at the Shanghai Course.

Abbeyfield and Glenfield did very well in 2.50 and 2.46 seconds respectively and finished very strong. If both of the two ponies be retained for the Gold Cup in the first day's race, "The Zebra" will be the likely winner of the Griffin's Plate.

"Golden Chrysanthemum" with Brand up on Sunday did the fastest time in one mile in 2.08

Messrs. R. P. Phillips and J. Lopes play billiards tonight at the Marine Engineers Institute. The game is in the second round of the Shanghai championship tournament.

The second round match between Messrs. C. R. Porter and J. W. Prince will not be played until Mr. Porter returns from Hongkong. No date has been fixed for the second round match between Messrs. A. Gomes and G. M. P. Remedios. The winner of this game must play the Shanghai champion, Mr. R. C. K. Johnson, in the semi-final.

Tonight's match at the Engineers Institute starts at 8:30 and the players will sail right through the 800 points without an intermission.

MR. STITT AGAIN HEADS STEWARDS AT THE RACE CLUB

Mr. G. H. Stitt, manager of the Hongkong and Shanghai Banking Corporation, was re-elected chairman of the Shanghai Race Club last night at the annual meeting when important alterations were made in some of the Club rules.

Mr. H. H. Read will again be honorary treasurer in 1923 while the following stewards were re-elected, Messrs. H. H. Arnold, A. W. Barkin, P. W. O. Lidell, C. G. S. Mackie and W. L. Meriman.

CHINESE RECS BEAT ARTILLERY; BROWN IS STAR

BY K. S. CHANG

The Chinese Recreation Club football team defeated the S.V.C. Artillery eleven Sunday afternoon on the club ground at West Gate before a crowd of about 1,000 spectators by a score of 3 to 1. The drizzle that fell during the game failed to dampen the interest of the big crowd.

The score at the interval read 1 to 0, with the Chinese leading. The goal was scored by K. T. Sun, the inside right, after 20 minutes of persistent attack, and as a result of good combination work among the forwards.

A few minutes after the opening of the second half, a corner kick was awarded to the Chinese Recs. L. Zee, the right wing, sent in a good kick, but the forwards failed to score. The ball was stopped by R. B. Zau, the crack half back, who standing near the back line, sent in a bullet-like shot into the right corner of the net, much to the despair of the goalkeeper of the artillery team. The third goal was scored by Wong, who played center-forward.

It looked as if the Artillery team was going to have a shut-out, but about ten minutes before the final whistle blew, they succeeded in netting the lone goal after a free kick was awarded them just outside the Recs' backline.

The Chinese team was in excellent form, and it deserved the win.

The defence put up a good showing, but the forward line was a bit slow. For the losers, J. B. Brown at full back deserved credit. He broke up several strong attacks and succeeded in keeping the score down.

FROM THE HEART OF CHINA Comes This Message of Praise and Thanks To Baby's Own Tablets.

Even in the heart of China Baby's Own Tablets, the Canadian children's remedy, are known and prized in many homes. Magistrate Tiao Chu Lich, of Kwanling, Shanxi Province, writes concerning them:

"My one-year old child became sick. His abdomen felt very hard and he cried day and night. I tried to cure him in many ways, but without success until learning of Baby's Own Tablets. I got the right remedy. The child recovered after I had given him ten Tablets. Since then I have never failed to give him Baby's Own Tablets whenever he gets ill, and never have failed to effect a cure quickly. Baby's Own Tablets are indeed a good medicine—a Boon for Children in the Sea of Misery!"

For infantile indigestion, constipation, colic, diarrhoea, croup, colds, simple fever, teething troubles and worms Baby's Own Tablets are an unequalled remedy. They are guaranteed absolutely safe and harmless even for the youngest infant. Dealers sell them, or post free, 60 cents per vial, from the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., 60 Kiangse Road, Shanghai.

Field Stables Looks Best For Derby

 Sat. This pony certainly demands careful watching in any of the griffin races he starts in. If a good jockey can be secured he will be dangerous in the Griffins' Plate.

Of the old ponies "Shenkoland" is now in best form and on a muddy course should win the Champions.

Mr. Morris stands the best chance to win the Derby with his two promising candidates, "Glenfield" and "Abbeyfield."

"The Zebra" looks dangerous but the fact should not be overlooked that the Field Griffins have the benefit of a few months more training than all the rest as they arrived here quite a long time earlier than most others.

Probable starters and riders in the Derby are as follows:

Radiator, Bauld; Nicollite, Hu; The Zebra, D. S. Li; Idol Eyes, Halmeyitch; Coquellot, Lou; Symphony, Stewart; Vanguard, Brand; Galopin, Vida; Sun Shadow, Liddell; Golden Chrysanthemum, (?); Tona, Morimoto; Abbeyfield, Heard; Glenfield, Morris; Dukesfield, Stewart; Nigz, Maitland; Rising Sun's Starter, Moller; Lordship, Wong; Young Fellow, W. Hill; Snappy Fellow, Soong; McKenzie, Orokam; Pole Star, Dallas and Green Diamond, Johnstone.

With 2,457 sacks of mail, 3,550 tons of cargo and a big passenger list for this port, the steamer President Jefferson of the Admiral Line which is coming from Seattle via Yokohama and Kobe, will dock at the China Merchants' Central Wharf about 10.30 o'clock this morning. The liner is scheduled to sail for Hongkong and Manila at 10 o'clock Thursday morning.

Following sailing of the Empress of Canada this morning, three trans-Pacific liners will sail for the United States this week. Mail for America will be despatched on the President Jackson next Sunday, and for Honolulu, California and the Southern States on the President Wilson Saturday.

The Canada arrived off Whooing yesterday afternoon and is to leave early this morning. The tender with out-bound passengers left the Customs jetty at 3.30 o'clock yesterday afternoon and incoming passengers from the vessel were landed at six. The liner takes thirty-four cabin passengers from this port and is due to arrive in Vancouver via Kobe and Yokohama on February 26.

The Taiyo Maru of T.K.K. will leave Whooing for Japan ports, Honolulu and San Francisco Thursday evening, and the tender with outgoing passengers and baggage will leave the Customs jetty at 2 o'clock that afternoon.

The Kashmir, from London via Suez, left Hongkong at 11 o'clock Sunday morning and is expected to dock at the Shanghai and Hong-kow Wharf late tomorrow morning, and the Plassy which sailed from Shanghai on January 6, arrived in Marseilles at 7 o'clock Saturday morning.

The Douglas, another P. and O. liner, was expected to leave Colombo for Singapore, Hongkong and Shanghai yesterday morning, and the Jeypore left Bombay for Shanghai via ports on the afternoon of January 7.

Surgical Operation Done On s.s. Taiyuan

A daring and successful surgical operation was performed on board the steamer Taiyuan during a voyage from Hongkong to Sydney. One of the officers being seriously ill, the ship's surgeon, requested Dr. Babbington, Fleet Surgeon, China Naval Station, who was a passenger, to join him in consultation, as the outcome of which the operation was performed. A portion of the Taiyuan's bridge was screened with canvas and transformed into an improvised operating theater. Despite the rolling of the ship, the operation proved successful, and the patient had almost recovered when the vessel arrived at Sydney, enroute of being a complete circle, affected. Soviet Scheme To Disrupt Fascisti In Italy Foiled (Italian Wireless through Reuter) Rome, Feb. 7.—The first details of a communist plot against the Fascist Government here are beginning to be known. The police maintain an extremely uncommunicative attitude on the subject, but some information has leaked out. A revolt was to break out all over Italy simultaneously, the movement was well financed and its leaders were in direct communication with Moscow.

This edition was not sporadic and local but it was planned and directed by a central organization whose headquarters were apparently in Rome. This central organization was known as the secret revolutionary executive committee.

The police became suspicious as to the activities of a certain Giovanni Bordiga, a communist leader. They searched his house and found that he was in possession of 240,000 lire in English currency, which was an extraordinary amount for a man who up to a few months ago was a humble employe of the state railway.

He was unable to explain where the money had come from. At the same time the police found a proclamation signed by the Council of the Third Internationale of Moscow in which the Fascisti were referred to as a gang of murderers and in which the workers were urged to overthrow them in Italy.

Later on the police found much incriminating correspondence with communist leaders all over Italy.

The Hankow Tragedy

WE have received the following communication from an indignant Chinese:

Editor, THE CHINA PRESS

Dear Sir: I am deeply touched at the news that the strikers of the Kin-Han Line were slain by the militarists, who refused them permission to have a union.

Of course, in some cases, the laborers are wrong, but it is their right to have a club. On the other hand, the Tsuchuns themselves are committing every crime. They rob the nation and kill the people! The walkout of the workmen, as well as the students, tells the woes of the armless people. Do the Tsuchuns forget that millions of money from the profit of Chinese Railways were taken into their pockets? Why are they so cruel!

The people have so far tried in vain to find a way to abolish the Tsuchun system. Some even ask the militarists to disarm their troops. How can such vampires agree? I now find the way, that is, to use Force. We should have a general strike!

I am, etc.,

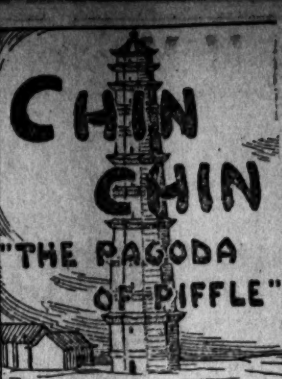

"A Chinese,"

Shanghai, Feb. 10, 1923.

The general strike as an antidote against political evils in China has been suggested before. So that our patriotic and well-meaning correspondent is not in the front with a new idea. The general strike anywhere is foredoomed to failure. It is something of a boomerang: it turns upon its originator. When all the workers down tools who suffers?

The general strike indeed has been tried out to a considerable extent in other countries where the chances for its success were a hundred fold greater than they would be in China. One can imagine such a strike meeting with some degree of success in a thoroughly organized manufacturing nation. The majority of workers being organized into unions and moving unitedly could bring things to a standstill temporarily, or precipitate a revolution to gain a certain end. But their success would spell failure, for when all work ceases all the people suffer in common.

But in an unorganized or disorganized country such as China, whose people are mainly small landowners devoted to agricultural pursuits, the general strike would involve but a small percentage of the population and the only persons to suffer would be the strikers. Our correspondent will have to find some other remedy.

CHIN CHIN THE PAGODA OF PIFFLE

PA JONGG SEZ:

"Shroffed Shanghaianders are taking up Turkish diplomacy and hereafter will consider chits as 'circulars', not 'ultimatums'."

And commenting on the headline in The China Press on Sunday: "Commission Sits"—Pa Jongg sez he sees no news in that. Commissions may come and go but we still have our situations fraught with danger.

THE FATAL STEP

(The candy cigar is the first of the seven stages in the lamentable career of the schoolboy smoker.—Anti-Cigarette Crusader.)

He stood on the scaffold, a creature of sin;

And awaited the ultimate jar. A necktie of hemp was caressing his chin

And his memory wandered afar. It carried him back to a barnful of hay.

Where he blighted his life in a spirit of play.

Ah, well he remembered that ill-fated day

When he smoked his first candy cigar.

His life had been pure as the blue Summer sky.

With never a cloudlet to mar. He had looked on the world with an innocent eye

That was clear as the evening star.

But he suddenly plunged in an orgy of crime

And murdered his feeble old aunt for a dime.

His criminal record began at the time

When he smoked his first candy cigar.

And now on the scaffold he stood in despair

And his record was blacker than tar.

And the diligent sheriff was waiting right there

To hand him the ultimate jar. He lifted his voice ere his spirit had fled

As they fitted the covering over his head.

"What we need is another amendment," he said.

"To prohibit the candy cigar."—Phair and Warner.

We're Always Accommodating At Least!

Mr. LARRY, THE CHINA PRESS, Shanghai.

Dear Sir:

Would you oblige me with a small space under your "Chin Chin" Column to make it known by the public of my remark as follows:

"You should know that a lightning kiss sometimes foreshadows the approach of a domestic storm, but it does not always follow that the storm can be calmed by a rain-bow kiss." Yours truly,

Yes, Little Garlic-san, a lotta this pre-war stuff we're getting has an afterclap in it like it was made right after the last Canton war.

Your Health

BY R. S. COPELAND, M.D.

(Note: Dr. Copeland has just been elected to the U. S. Senate by the State of New York.)

In all nature there is no more terrifying thing than the experience of an earthquake. When the earth loses its stability the very foundations of existence seem to be swept away.

Of all the symptoms one may earth loses its stability the very foundations of existence seem to be swept away.

Vertigo, dizziness, giddiness, "swimming in the head" are expressions used to describe loss of balance, or any disturbance in the normal state of equilibrium.

The most interior portion of the ear is tucked away within the bony walls of the skull. Important portions of this rather complicated arrangement are the three tiny canals, each lacking but a narrow segment of being a complete circle.

Half-close your right hand, so that your straight fingers are at your palm. Rest the outside edge of your bent right hand on the upturned palm of your left hand.

Imagine one of the semi-circular canals to lie in the plane of your right palm, another at right angles to this, in the plane of the fingers of your right hand, and the third at right angles to both the others, in the plane of your left palm.

This is the position in which these canals are placed in your internal ear.

The semi-circular canals are very narrow, about one-twentieth of an inch in diameter. They contain circulating fluid and act, in a sense, like spirit levels, or rather a combination of three spirit levels at different angles.

They are so connected with the body and brain by delicate nervous fibres that, no matter how your body is placed or your head is tilted, you are conscious of your exact position in space. You cannot get into a position which does not affect the fluid in one or the other of your curiously but accurately-placed semi-circular canals.

Of course, all the portions of the internal ear, or "labyrinth," as it is called, has a part in this particular function, but the semi-circular canals are most important.

Some persons are not so well-equipped for perfect balance as are others. During the war no man was permitted to enter the aviation service until his internal ear functions had been tested thoroughly. His sense of equilibrium, or bodily balance, had to be perfect, or the applicant was not considered fit to be an aviator.

Not all cases of vertigo are due to trouble in the internal ear. There are many other causes.

When due to ear trouble the vertigo takes one of two forms. In the first, there is slight, quickly-passing giddiness, or there may be almost total loss of consciousness and falling to the ground. If water is too forcibly syringed into the ear, or if an excess of wax is impacted in the ear, these symptoms may result.

If the trouble is in the semi-circular canals, the exact symptoms depend on which canal is affected. There is always a tendency to fall in one particular direction—to the right, to the left backward or forward.

Likewise, certain definite movements of the body cause vertigo. For instance, on attempting to arise from lying down, or on throwing the head backward, forward or to one side, or will come an attack of vertigo. Any given movement, whenever it is attempted, may bring on dizziness. This shows that one particular canal is out of order.

All forms of vertigo due to ear disturbance are, associated with noises in the ears. These noises may be described as buzzing, ringing, thumping or singing—they are characterized by every name. From what I have told you about vertigo you will see that it is merely a symptom. Vertigo is not a disease. Uncomfortable as it is, it may not indicate serious disease anywhere in the body.

But continued attacks of vertigo show that something is wrong. Either you are working too hard and need a rest, or the elimination of waste from your body is interfered with, or your eyes or ears require attention. Your heart, kidneys, intestinal canal and skin must all be considered and carefully examined.

Don't worry about the vertigo, but seek to find its cause. When that is removed your dizziness will disappear of its own accord.

In The U. S. Court For China

Hung Tai Hong, Plaintiff, vs. Asia Banking Corporation (A Corporation) and Gaston, Williams and Wigmore (A Corporation) Defendants.

Cause No. 1678, Civil No. 579. Order Filed February 12, 1923.

SYLLABUS

1. Pleading: A Demurrer admits all well pleaded averments.

2. Id. The sufficiency of a pleading is not affected by the prayer: If the cause of action is stated the Court will grant the proper relief.

Messrs. Davies and Bryan for the first Demurrer.

Messrs. Schoop and Chalaire for the second Demurrer.

H. D. Rodger, Esquire, contra.

Lobingier, J.:

The cause of action here is an order by a consignee to a wharfinger for the delivery of a consignment of flake glue which, it is alleged, was held by the second defendant as security for an indebtedness of the first who assigned it to another for a consideration, apparently the amount of the indebtedness, after which the second defendant endorsed it as follows:

"Deliver to Gaston, Williams and Wigmore on payment of all charges—"

Shanghai, July 30, 1921, per pro. Asia Banking Corporation, R. S. Smith."

Subsequently the assignee of the order assigned it for a large consideration to plaintiff who alleges that he

"Duly presented the said Delivery order to the custodians of the said 113 bags of flake glue and demanded delivery thereof. That thereupon the plaintiff was informed and the plaintiff believes and bases his allegation upon such information and belief, plaintiff alleges that the defendant Asia Banking Corporation had theretofore wrongfully and knowingly converted the said 113 bags of flake glue to its own use and the Defendants thereupon after due demand failed and refused to deliver the said glue to the Plaintiff."

A general demurrer is interposed by each defendant and briefs are presented in behalf of all parties in which there is much discussion as to whether the delivery order is a negotiable instrument. We may agree with defendants' counsel that such a document would not fall within the terms of the negotiable instrument law (1) and we may also agree with plaintiff's counsel that a warehouse receipt may be negotiable (2). But the instrument sued upon is not a receipt, nor does it comply with the requirements of the section last cited.

But while not negotiable, the instrument before us would seem to be transferable by endorsement and delivery, as the complaint alleges, and to pass thereby all of the interest of both defendants, so that plaintiff would be entitled as against defendants to the immediate possession of the goods described.

The complaint alleges, as we have seen, that one of the defendants "had theretofore wrongfully and knowingly converted" the goods "to its own use," and that both defendants have "failed and refused to deliver." It is true that these averments are made upon information and belief, as in fact are allegations in most pleadings, but the demurrers admit such averments as well as all others properly pleaded. (3)

We need not stop to inquire whether plaintiff is entitled to the precise relief prayed for; it suffices if he set forth a breach of his rights, leaving it for the Court to apply the proper remedy. We think the complaint, fairly construed, alleges that both defendants are guilty of preventing the delivery to plaintiff of goods for which he had paid and which are described in the document which both defendants had assigned. This would seem to constitute a breach of plaintiff's rights and entitle him to some relief.

The demurrers are accordingly overruled and each defendant is given ten days to answer.

"Save your eyes."

Our way of ocular examination is entirely different from others. In the former times it relied on subjective observation which can not disclose real status of eye refraction in high degree of accuracy. In the practice of Modern Ophthalmic Optics—Optometry the observer more relies on objective methods by the aid of precision instruments. Your call at our office will have such services as can be rendered by an up-to-date optometrist.

That's what the crowd

said last night after they had given

the new dancer, the once over

Make no mistake—this girl is good. Anna, mentioned above, may have the rep, but Vera has the youth and the beauty and the old flexibility.

Positively, she's the best classical and oriental dancer that has blown into Shanghai in years, barring none.

And easy to look at! Say, if Annette Kellerman ever sees Vera she will throw a jealous fit.

"POP EYED"

is the only word that will describe the crowd that saw her last night and the night before. Time and again they called her back.

"THE DYING SWAN"
TONIGHT

See her, and if you don't say she is the "best ever" it will be because there's something wrong with your eyes.

She has a dancing partner.

JEAN VILLE

who supplements her dancing in rare style. Together they make a wonderful team.

WEDNESDAY NIGHT

in addition to Vera and Jean, we are staging some wonderful for the benefit of the Russian Refugee Fund. (Detailed announcement later)

There were sellers of Gold Dollars at 72 for near delivery, 71 1/2 February and 71 1/2 for forward delivery. There were buyers at 1-3d in Sterling and 1-4 point in Gold Dollars above these rates.

There were sellers of Yen at 67 1/2 for near delivery and buyers at 67 1/2. There were sellers for March at 68 and buyers at 67 1/2. Banks were quoting 3-1/2 and 73 1/2 for Sterling and Gold Dollar bills for delivery prior to China New Year and 3-1/2 and 73 1/2 for subsequent deliveries.

India bought a small amount of silver in London on Saturday and the market is reported as closing steady. There was no business doing in the New York market but the undertone is reported as firm.
